

From Apprehensive to Assured

Phil wasn't sure that chiropractic was right for him before starting care at Revolution Chiropractic. However He decided to start as a last resort, and what a blessing it turned out to be!

Phil started chiropractic care even though he was still scheduled for a surgery to help him cope with his daily pain. From day one, Dr. Kramer reassured him that it would take time and repetition for healing to occur, but Phil really wanted instant gratification and quick results. After only a few adjustments, the pain started to subside and Phil could tell the difference. Phil use to take Advil and Ibuprofen for daily aches and pains and after only a week, he was off his medications. What was even more exciting was that Phil called his MD to cancel his surgery and he has been happier ever since. He is so thankful for all the help and care provided by the Revolution Chiropractic team and has no more apprehensions!

It took time and repetition before he started seeing the results.
