

Consistent Connection Leads to Breakthrough

Zachary is a rambunctious pre-teen who likes to sneak his mom's snacks when he thinks she doesn't know. He enjoys bowling and playing hockey.

Zachary started coming into Revolution with his mom and sister almost 8 years ago. When he first came into Revolution, he was not interested in getting adjusted and wouldn't speak or even make eye contact with Dr. Jason. Week after week, Dr. Jason would make an effort to engage with Zachary eventually earning his trust, which led to weekly fist-bumps and short interactions where Zachary eventually allowed Dr. Jason to adjust him (many many many months later). Each week when Dr. Jason would shout 'BYE ZACHARY!' there was no response until one week Zachary paused slightly on the way out the door and responded 'BYE JASON!' This not only surprised Dr. Jason, but Zachary's mother as well! Now, on their way in to the office when his mother asks, "is Dr. Jason your friend?" Zachary responds short and sweet..."Yes." We love you too, buddy. Glad you're part of the Revolution family.

“Bye, Jason.”
